

RESILIENCY IN THE MOUNTAIN STATE

In the heart of Appalachia, West Virginia's need for resiliency is heightened by economic shifts, environmental concerns, and ongoing infrastructure demands. By embracing resiliency, West Virginians can create a more sustainable and prosperous future for generations to come.

Students, faculty, and community members are welcome to join us for this nonpartisan discussion as we explore the need for resiliency in West Virginia across all industries!

Please RSVP to: eventswwrsvp@gmail.com if you are interested in attending in-person or would like to participate via livestream.

WHEN:

Wednesday
April 3, 2024
4:30pm – 6:30pm

WHERE:

The Byrd Center Auditorium
213 N King St
Shepherdstown, WV 25443

PANELISTS:

Delegate Evan Hansen
West Virginia House of Delegates,
Principal of Downstream Strategies

Dr. Jeffrey R. Groff
Professor of Physics and Environmental Sciences, Shepherd University

Lauren Johnson, MPH
Senior Analyst, Justice and Climate
Justice, Environmental Defense Fund

Melissa Scott
County Planner and Floodplain
Manager, Hardy County, WV

MODERATED BY:

Paul Teter
Shepherd University School of Business
President of Student Government Association
Delta Sigma Pi Brother

HOSTED BY:

